

Take Me Out To the Ballgame!

SEALKIDS' Founder Suzanne Vogel and her children, Hunter and Alexandra, attended the St. Louis Cardinals game on June 26, 2019. SEALKIDS was honored to throw the first pitch at the game. Hunter represented SEALKIDS on the pitcher's mound. A special thanks to the St. Louis Cardinals for the opportunity to meet new friends in St. Louis, including Fredbird!

Tips for Handling Summertime with Sensory Processing Issues

Summer is a time to enjoy the outdoors with your family. But if you have a child with sensory processing issues, that can mean a whole other set of challenges. The sounds, smells, and sensations associated with the outdoors can be overwhelming to these children. I enjoyed reading the article, Summertime Challenges for Kids with Sensory Processing Issues by Amanda Morin. The article offers some great ways to manage the challenges that summertime can bring. I hope you find this article as useful as I did.

From a SEALKIDS Parent

"SEALKIDS is amazing! Our son was failing math and totally struggling with basic concepts. He has improved so much and his confidence is just amazing. Thank you so much! We are so grateful that there is help that can make our lives and the lives of our children easier and rewarding."

-SEALKIDS Parent

Change the life of a child by supporting SEALKIDS...

We receive requests for service consistently throughout the year. Parents, observing their child's struggles, reach out to SEALKIDS for hope, help, and results. Some of the children we serve struggle with learning disabilities, for which there is no cure. Some of the children we serve struggle with stress and anxiety due to the deployment of a parent. Some of the children we serve just need a little help to overcome challenges. SEALKIDS steps in to provide targeted and immediate intervention to ensure these children reach their full potential. SEALKIDS relies on donors, like you, to partner with us as we work to fulfill our mission.

The average cost to serve one child is $5000.
