Wareing's Gym Memorial Day Charity Workout

A big thank you to Wareing's Gym and the 115 people that came out on Memorial Day morning to workout in support of SEALKIDS! The charity workout raised $2,236.46 which will provide for an entire semester of support for one child!

Helpful tips to help your child with reading comprehension...

Having two daughters with dyslexia, reading comprehension is something that I work to educate myself on. I discovered that just because my daughter could read a book, she was not actually understanding what she reads. I came across an article by Andrew M. I. Lee, J.D., 6 Essential Skills for Reading Comprehension that I found very helpful. The article provides skills that I am going to implement with my girls. The article reminds me that some people think of the act of reading as a straightforward task, but it is actually a complex skill that draws from many other skills.

From a SEALKIDS Parent

"The SEALKIDS' grant has allowed me time to parent my other two children as well as the one who is struggling. So much of my time was consumed trying to help the one that I didn't always have time for the others. The tutor is able to do in one hour what was taking me 3 hours to accomplish. This one-on-one help is crucial for my child!"
